And don't forget to subscribe to the ColdFusion journal you've always wished for, The Fusion Authority Quarterly Update.

The Fusion Authority Quarterly Update is a high-quality, ColdFusion-centric technical journal that provides relevant, well-written content by expert authors four times a year. As Ben Forta, well-known ColdFusion evangelist and author of the ColdFusion Web Application Construction Kit, said:

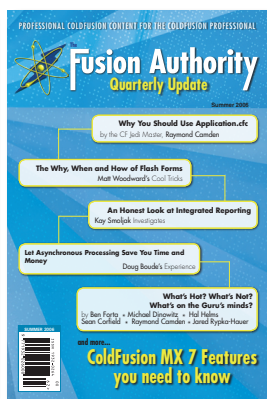

"Fusion Authority Quarterly deserves your attention... The articles are well written real content without feeling dumbed down. The scope of coverage is impressive... Content that is much needed and generally lacking is included here ... The presentation and production is truly professional. And the form factor is ideal a size and thickness that makes issues easy to keep at hand and with you." (Excerpt from Forta.com)
